

COMPANY PROFILE

Background

In the age of globalization, being sharp and savvy (cutting edge, person of the world) is an essential requirement for those who pursue excellence in personal and professional life. Re-Imagine yourself as a global citizen/leader.

Leadership today, is about allowing people to take charge of personal and professional evolvment. It is about unfreezing and reinventing instinctive creativity and curiosity in individuals so that they can operate smoothly in a world of constantly changing rules so that they are able to add value in a meaningful way.

We hand hold clients to help them release inherent leadership qualities in a caring, nurturing and fearless environment.

Purpose

At Corpret Fox we focus on creating the ripple effect. We put people we work with on a path of impactful leadership, such that they influence the people who touch their lives. These connections are powerful and leave a lasting impression.

Cor: Core- becoming a self propelled leader

Pret: Flair/ Impression - evolving a personal brand identity

Fox: Element of controversy/discussion- interacting and connecting with others

Vision

To create influence through leadership using an institutional platform where leaders converge in a space of open sharing, learning and transmission of knowledge.

Mission

Corpret Fox is about Leadership Development and Impression Management. We facilitate our clients on the leadership journey such that they make a difference in every walk of their lives, and on the life of each person they come across. The focus is on mastering leadership skills, both from a strategic and tactical perspective.

Corpret Fox Philosophy

- We are sharp, savvy and sensitive to your transformation.
- We place highest value on Integrity. We are a fair and transparent organization with zero tolerance policy towards dishonesty.
- We promise to deliver value based on the objectives we set with the client without compromise on quality and time.
- Success and wealth are created and measured by more than just money.
- The environment in which people learn best is one which promotes and unfolds high self esteem.

Approach

At Corpret Fox we focus on impact. Our programs are designed using the latest Instruction Design Methods and facilitation techniques to deliver exceptional and immediate value while providing substantial, long-term benefits.

1. Need Analysis: Through a comprehensive preliminary process, we gain a thorough understanding of our client's objectives prior to proposing an appropriate plan and then go forward using a result oriented approach. We use a two pronged approach to assessing and analyzing client requirements- Visual and Behavioral.

2. Training Proposal: After detailed evaluation, we go about proposing a customized training program to systematically and effectively service the needs of the client using appropriate tools and techniques to address specific needs.

3. Outcome Monitoring: We guide and monitor the client over a period of time after completion of training, in order ensure that the new skills learnt, have in fact, been imbibed and applied in real life.

Our Clients

We provide services to a broad range of industries, professions, and titles (Entry Level to Senior Executives and Entrepreneurs); assessing personal style to developing a consistent professional image. Various Corporations, Educational Institutions, Healthcare and Hospitality Establishments use our services in the form of a retainer engagement or for various modules on an 'as needed' basis.

Our programs are delivered on-site at clients' venues, via open forums and at our Training Center.

Alliances

Corpret Fox believes in partnering with acknowledged leaders in their respective industries in order to deliver you outstanding value and a range of well-integrated, customized services. We have delivery and content access arrangements with a panel of leading specialists and trainers who are experts in their respective fields.
